Applicant's arguments filed 3/6/2006 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive to overcome all the rejections of record.

The Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112 have been overcome by applicant's amendments and arguments.

The double patenting rejections have been overcome by applicant's filing of terminal disclaimers.

Regarding the 102 rejection, while it is true that Creson generically teaches T-cells and not specifically regulatory T-cells, an anticipation rejection is still proper. The "genus" T-cell contains very few species one of which is regulatory T-cells. Given that, the generic "T-cell" disclosure in Creson is sufficiently specific to anticipate applicant's claimed invention though it is drawn to a species of T-cells because one would at once envisage "regulatory T-cells" when reading Creson's generic "T-cell."

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 22-23 and 25-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Creson et al(Journal of Virology 73(11) 1999).

Creson (whole article) teaches the activation and expansion of T-cells using ligands of anti-CD3 and anti-CD28. The reference anticipates the claim subject matter.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
